

KAFKAESQUE JUSTICE:

THE CASE OF HASSAN DIAB

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 2011 7:00 PM

PSAC BUILDING:

233 GILMOUR STREET AT METCALFE

Should another country have the right to forcibly remove you from Canada on the basis of secret allegations?

What would it be like:

- to suddenly be told by a foreign country you committed a crime 30 years ago
- to face allegations based on secret intelligence, misrepresentations, incompetent handwriting analysis and suppressed proof of innocence

Learn about this shocking case from

RANIA TFAILY
wife of Hassan Diab

MATTHEW BEHRENS
Coordinator of the Campaign
to Stop Secret Trials

Moderated by:

PETER GOSE

Chair, Dept. of Sociology and Anthropology, Carleton University

Organized by: Communications, Energy, and Paper Workers (CEP) Union of Canada Local 2025

For more information: www.justiceforhassandiab.org