

Public Lecture

Hassan Diab: Extradition Law on Trial

A discussion of legal, factual and political questions in the case against a former Carleton and University of Ottawa professor accused of a 1980 French synagogue bombing, including:

- why exonerating evidence was not allowed in court
- how extradition law is fundamentally unfair
- why a fair trial in France is unlikely

For more background, see www.justiceforhassandiab.org/

Wednesday October 19, 2011

7:00-9:00 p.m.

Dunton Tower 2203

Speakers:

Donald Bayne,

Partner of the law firm
Bayne Sellar Boxall

Nathalie Des Rosiers,

General Council of the Canadian Civil Liberties Association

Moderator:

Bill Skidmore,

Institute for Interdisciplinary Studies
(Human Rights) at Carleton University

Sponsored by:
The Departments of Law, Sociology and Anthropology and the Institute for Interdisciplinary Studies (Human Rights) at Carleton University, CUPE 4600(2) and the Canadian Association of University Teachers